REINVENTED FOR DESIGN

By combining the style and aesthetics of a soft surface with the durability and life cycle of a resilient surface, form and function now have a new look. Tandus' C&A Powerbond has evolved in design, offering a high performance solution for any space and design vision.

Powerbond®— Performance has never looked so good

No one would argue the importance of good design in a floorcovering.

Powerbond’s seams are molecularly bound and water-proof. Seaming diagrams are no longer an issue. Easy to install and seam, Powerbond creates a wall-to-wall moisture barrier. Powerbond VCTT (Variable Cushion Tufted Textile) is a hybrid resilient sheet-flooring, with a closed cell cushion that provides the most sustainable floorcovering available and with unlimited design options.

Just as important as design, is performance. In fact, it’s a necessity.

Resilient Closed-Cell Cushion is the “DNA” of VCTT and incorporates the most advanced technology in floorcovering and is the single greatest component to VCTT performance and design.

The closed-cell cushion prevents contaminants and liquids from penetrating to the subfloor. Seamless after installation, Powerbond installs with a factory-applied, odorless, low VOC peel-and-stick adhesive.

Powerbond is a hybrid resilient sheet flooring. But what does that really mean? The DNA of Powerbond is the closed-cell cushion that does not lose its resiliency, even throughout harsh foot and rolling traffic and continued wear. Its heterogeneous wear layer provides a wall-to-wall barrier against contaminates and moisture, while also reducing labor and chemical exposure during maintenance—significant, especially in education and healthcare environments.

Powerbond also offers environmental benefits. It is 100% recyclable, meaning there is no waste after its useful life. Because the total construction of Powerbond is impermeable to moisture and contaminants, water consumption used when cleaning is among the lowest of any floor option in soft or hard surfaces.

After 42 years of enhancing environments for learning, healing, living and working, Powerbond is recognized for the aesthetic value it offers through its unlimited design capabilities. The evolution of design has never looked so good.

But seeing is believing. Schedule a Powerbond demonstration today by contacting your local Tandus representative.
